

APPLICATION OF THE TEACHER CONCEPT IN DIFFERENT CONCEPTUAL SPHERES

R. A. Mamasoliyev

The Senior Instructor, Fergana State University Faculty of Foreign Languages
In Humanitarian Directions Department of Foreign Languages

Abstract

This article discusses the use of the concept of teacher in different conceptual spheres, that is, in different languages, and the etymology of their origin.

Keywords: concept, word, knowledge, teacher, pedagogue, educator, Trainer, Tutor, Master, Coach, governess, lecturer, speaker, addressee, semantic signs.

Uzbek linguist M.I.Umarkhojaev gives the following definition of knowledge: The perfection of man is through knowledge. therefore, learning knowledge is obligatory for every person. By the way, knowledge is our inherited wealth, it increases as we spend it, it does not flow in water, it does not burn in grass, as your knowledge increases, your friends increase. if you eat it, you will live longer, if you collect knowledge, teach it to others and leave it, your name will be eternal, if you die, knowledge will go with you, it will be your companion in the grave. As our grandfathers said, wisdom and knowledge are the adornment of a person, and they are created through knowledge. learning is worship, and seeking knowledge is the greatest jihad. Teaching knowledge to a person who does not know is the best charity. Knowledge is the best companion in times of loneliness, a reliable companion on lonely roads, an ornament in the eyes of friends, and a sharp weapon against enemies. The first step in acquiring knowledge is silence, then listening, next is memorization, next is practice, and the last is teaching what you have learned to others. Science is better than the state. Knowledge is you, and you protect it. There is nothing higher and dearer than knowledge in the world

We all know that specialists working in the field of education are called by several names. There are various explanations for their origin and etymology. The conceptual spheres of the concept of "teacher" are as follows. first, let's give the explanation of the word "teacher": the word teacher is taken from the Arabic language and is related to the words ilm, education, scholar.

In Uzbek, it is used in two different meanings:

1. teacher; teacher, pedagogue; math teacher, music teacher, university teacher: the salary of a Fiqh teacher is 300 dirhams, "Science and Life"

2. An educator, a person who teaches something to someone; master, master. today, the word muallim is rarely used in everyday language.

We see that the concept of "teacher" is often referred to as "teacher".

There are different opinions about the etymology of the word Domla, and the full form of the word is domulla. This full form is also used in the vernacular. According to the explanatory dictionary, it was formed by combining the Persian and Indian words dodo and the Arabic mullah

According to the national encyclopedia, this word refers to intellectuals who educated boys in old schools, imams of mosques, teachers in higher and secondary special educational institutions, who gained prestige in a certain field, who set an example for others with their advanced worldview, faith and other qualities used for people. As for the word teacher, this word is a purely Uzbek term. The word "teacher" stands out among words such as domla, muallim, ustoz, coach, as it is purely Uzbek. It means a person who teaches one of the basics of science and education.

The official position of specialists who teach in higher and secondary special educational institutions and schools is teaching. The physical education teacher told him that "you will become a good athlete". O. Hoshimov, "Listen to your heart"

Means coach-educator, Murabbi is derived from the Arabic language and is cognate with the word tarbiya. In Uzbek, it is used in meanings such as educator, leader, sports coach. He is a coach who has won many prizes with his team.

Mudarris-teacher. The word Mudarris comes from Arabic. It is related to the words "dars" and "madrassa". means a person who teaches in a madrasa. Even now, religious educational institutions, including madrasa teachers, are called mudarris. This word was actively used in the language before: his great uncle was the mudarris of the "Khoja Porso" madrasa of Buhoror, and Abdurahman was brought up by this person, A. Qadiri "Scorpion from the Altar".

Pedagogue is an ancient term, the root of this word goes back to the ancient Greek phrase paidagogos. This term, meaning child-leader, was originally used to refer to the slaves who gave the first education and took care of the child.

In ancient Athens, when a child reached the age of seven, he was given the education of a pedagogue. He educated the child. Protection from physical and mental dangers is also entrusted to the pedagogue. The pedagogue is obliged to follow and bring the child to school, to always be with him. The word pedagogue is related to the word editor. A pediatrician is a specialist in children's health. The word "pedagogue" first came to Latin, and then to French. It entered the Russian language in the 18th century and was later assimilated into Uzbek. In modern Uzbek, the word pedagogue is a specialist in the field of pedagogy; means a teacher, a person who is engaged in education and training of children and young people, who has special training in this field: The task of a pedagogue is high, complex and noble. "Science and life"

A tutor means-coach. This term appeared in our language in the last year, means a specialist who constantly analyzes the spiritual and social condition of students and provides close assistance in solving existing problems. Tutor is an English word. passed into English from Latin through Old French. The root of this word goes back to the Sanskrit language. Tutor is used in modern English to mean a teacher, a coach, a specialist engaged in private education. In Uzbek, it means an employee of a higher education institution. it deals with issues such as student interest, extracurricular activities, and living conditions. The word coach can give meaning.

The word professor in Latin means public teacher, teacher of the people. we saw in our analysis above that its core goes back to the verbs profiteri - to say openly, to announce, to speak openly. Professor is a scientific title or position of highly qualified scientific staff in higher educational institutions and scientific institutes. originally used as an official title at Oxford University in the 16th century.

Instructor -lot.instructor-organizer, organizer

1. A person who guides subordinate institutions, social organizations and individuals, teaches them how to do something correctly. The young instructor led the next woman in. O'.Usmanov, Mysterious beach

2a person who teaches and gives qualifications for a certain specialty. In this city, in Navoi, many sports activities are carried out by public trainers and instructors. (from newspaper)

An educator is a person who provides education, a coach. Kindergarten educator. Female educator. his eyes full of pride...staring at the teachers, he wanted to express his sincere gratitude to the respected Davronov, who was a father instead of a father, to the passionate educator Mrs. Nafisa. P. Tursin, Teacher. Abdulla Qahhor was a true teacher of the youth. From the newspaper. Trainer-from the English language trainer-train means to train. A specialist who leads the training of athletes in any type of sport. Coach of the football team. The trainer gave me gloves and said: "Keep your heart!" I. Raheem, my love. In this city, most of the sports activities are carried out by public trainers and instructors. From the newspaper. The coach urged his student not to get excited and gave his last advice. From the newspaper.

ausbilder means teacher, especially a ski or swimming coach

A teacher is a teacher who teaches people everything he knows and at the same time educates them.

Pedagogue - Greek piadagogos - educator. pedagogic specialist; a person who is engaged in raising and teaching children and young people, who has special training in this field, a teacher. Skilled pedagogue. Team of school pedagogues. One of the skilled pedagogues who was able to instill a special love for geography in their students. S. Ahmad, Yulduz. The task of a pedagogue is high, complex and noble. "Science and life".

Pedagogical-Pedagogical, specific. Pedagogical team. Pedagogical activity. Pedagogical skill. Pedagogical practice.

A pedant is a teacher or teacher who deals with academic subjects and teaches them to students

Erzieherin, Erzieher - teacher, teacher, pedagogue who teaches the theories of educational theories and methods

A governess is a teacher who previously raised and educated children in one family and was paid for her work.

Meisterschaft is a skilled coach or teacher who teaches in a particular sport

Lehrer is a teacher who teaches at school

Tutorin, Tutor - tutor or tutor, tutor, teacher at a British university or college

A trainer is a teacher or coach who prepares a person or a team for a sport

Vorlesung-lecturing teacher, teacher lector-teacher from Latin lector-teacher. A person who reads a lecture

Wiederholungstäter - teacher, teacher, educator, repititor woman means schoolmaster or schoolmistress.

REFERENCES

1. М.И.Умархўэев. Қизил китобга тушмас туйғулар.-,Академнашр.- Б.46.2013йил.
2. Ў.Ҳошимов, “Қалбингга қулоқ сол”.
3. Абдулла Қодирий. “Меҳробдан чаён” (Жулқунбой) Тошканд, 1928-нчи йил, 5 феврал 2. АМИР....
4. <https://ru.wikiquote.org/wiki/Педант>. Педант – Викицитатник
5. <https://www.bussgeldkatalog.org> > .Wiederholungstäter – Erhöhtes Bußgeld und Fahrverbot